Project Description:

There is a significant shortage of teachers in schools. Volunteers provide effective assistance to pupils in their studies by assisting teachers during lessons, giving support classes, etc. The children will be made aware of behaviours that are detrimental or beneficial to their health, become aware of the limits of their body and adopt a healthy lifestyle. The volunteers will support the pupils in mathematics and physical sciences, languages, drawing, music and sports. In the kindergarten (2-5 years old), volunteers will assist the teachers and design various socio-educational activities.

Notice: This is an Africa WG project. Please contact the SCI branch or partner organisation in your country for further information.
